

AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

Please replace the paragraph beginning at page 2, line 13 with the following amended paragraph:

The growth of digital photography also is contributing to the presence of large numbers of digital images on the Internet, as photographers increasingly store their photos online in photo storage sites such as Hewlett-Packard Co.'s "HP Photo" web site (<http://www.hpphoto.com>). Business associates, family, and friends of a photographer can view the digital photos and on many occasions desire to obtain printed copies.

Please replace the paragraph beginning at page 24, line 1 with the following amended paragraph:

It should also be noted that, instead of using a .JPG file as the target of a hyperlink tag, a web page file 8' associated with the larger image file 4a could alternatively be hyperlinked to the thumbnail image 7a by including "HREF=WebPage.html" in the starting tag. This would allow, for example, a caption or other information 93 about the larger image file 4a to be displayed along with the larger rendered image file 6a on the rendered web page [[9']]⁹².
